

Pension drawdown relief

Maritime Super Allocated, Term Allocated and Working Income Support Pension members can take advantage of the temporary pension drawdown relief to 30 June 2010

Overview

The Federal Government recently made changes to super legislation which will continue the pension drawdown relief originally provided to super account-based, allocated and market-linked pension members in March 2009 for the 2008/09 financial year through to 2009/10.

This will allow Maritime Super Allocated, Term Allocated and Working Income Support Pension (WISP) members to elect to take half of the normal minimum pension payments for 2009/10.

The reasons for the temporary relief

Many pensioners have been concerned that meeting the required minimum drawdown amount for 2008/09 and 2009/10 in the current investment market climate will force them to sell assets and realise losses when they draw more pension income than they need.

This relief will provide those eligible pensioners with the option of preserving more of their pension account balance in super so they are in a stronger position when markets recover.

Who will find this relief beneficial?

All Maritime Super Allocated, Term Allocated and Working Income Support Pension members can take advantage of this relief. It will particularly appeal to those pensioners who do not need to draw down the normal minimum payment from their pension to meet their living costs.

How to work out your minimum pension income for 2009/10

Allocated and Working Income Support Pension members

Your minimum annual pension income for 2009/10 can be calculated by dividing your normal minimum income amount by 2, rounded to the nearest $10.

For most Allocated Pension and WISP members¹, your minimum annual pension income for 2009/10 will be calculated by multiplying your account balance at 1 July 2009 (or on commencement if you start your pension this financial year) by a percentage factor (which has been halved for 2009/10) based on your age:

Your age	Percentage factor	Percentage factor applying for 2009/10 with the relief
Under 65	4.0%	2.0%
65 - 74	5.0%	2.5%
75 - 79	6.0%	3.0%
80 - 84	7.0%	3.5%
85 - 89	9.0%	4.5%
90 - 94	11.0%	5.5%
95 or over	14.0%	7.0%

¹ If you held your pension as a Non-Commutable Allocated Pension in the Stevedoring Employees Retirement Fund before 1 March 2009 and have not elected to convert your pension to an account-based pension, your minimum pension payment is calculated using different factors. Refer to the Member Guide you received when you started your pension or contact Member Services on 1800 757 607 for more information.

An example

John is receiving an account-based pension which originally commenced on 1 July 2006 and he is 64 on 1 July 2009. John's pension account balance on 1 July 2009 is $400,000.

For 2009/10, the minimum pension income he is required to draw down is $8,000 (i.e. $2\% \times $400,000 = $8,000$).

Without the temporary relief, he would be required to draw down $16,000 (i.e. $4\% \times $400,000 = $16,000$).

Term Allocated Pension (TAP) members

Your minimum annual pension income is calculated as your account balance (at 1 July each year) divided by a Pension Factor (which reflects the remaining term of your pension).

Each year, you can choose to receive an annual pension income that is between 90% and 110% of the calculated annual pension income. The relief will allow you to take a minimum annual pension income of only 45% of the calculated annual pension income amount for 2009/10 (i.e. 90% divided by 2).

Contact Member Services for more information regarding how your minimum pension payment is calculated.

When does the relief cease?

The relief will cease on 30 June 2010. In financial years after 2009/10, the usual minimum pension income amounts will apply unless further relief is granted by the Federal Government.

How do I reduce my minimum annual payment?

Allocated, Term Allocated and Working Income Support Pension members can vary the pension payment they wish to receive on the Variation of Pension Details and Investment Options form available from the Maritime Super website or by contacting Member Services on 1800 757 607.

If you decide that you wish to receive the reduced minimum pension income, we can adjust your future payments. However, we are unable to accept refunds of pension payments in excess of the reduced minimum (because super legislation does not permit contributions to be accepted once a pension has commenced).

Other considerations

If you choose to reduce your payments, you should be aware that any Centrelink benefits you may be receiving could be affected by this choice.

Falling asset values due to current market conditions might also mean that you are now entitled to a Centrelink Age Pension, or more if you are already receiving a part-pension because of the assets test.

Contact Centrelink on 13 23 00 for more information.
